

Working Paper

The working paper is a reference document for the resolution. It does not have a rigid format and is made after 2 or 3 moderated caucuses to outline the problems and solutions presented in the committee session. The working paper could be made in the following format:

Working Paper 1.0

Committee: FULLNAME

Agenda:

XYZ Model UN

Date: dd/mm/yyyy

Authors: (min.1, max.3)

Members Present: (everyone else present in the committee)

Topics Discussed

- .
- .
- .

Problems Raised

- .
- .
- .

Solutions Proposed

- .
- .
- .

SAMPLE:

Working Paper 1.1

Committee : United Nations Human Rights Council (UNHCR)

Agenda : Combating Human Rights Violations Based On Sexual Orientation And Gender Identity

Session : 61st Session, NAMI MUN

Date : 26th-28th December, 2025

Authors : Islamic Republic Of Pakistan, Islamic Republic of Iran, United Arab Emirates, Republic of Indonesia, Russian Federation, Republic of the Philippines, Republic of Uganda

Topic Discussed

- Addressing Violence And Hate Crimes Against LGBTQ+ Community Globally.
- Causes For Denial Of LGBTQ+ Rights.
- Tackling Religion, Culture And Tradition For Violating LGBTQ+ Rights.
- International Cooperation For Solving The LGBTQ+ Rights Violations.
- Methods To Solve The Violence Against LGBTQ+ Community.

Problems Raised

- Many of these countries face sensitive cultural, religious, and social contexts, which influence how issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity are approached.
- National Sovereignty VS Western Concept.
- Restrictions on freedom of expression.
- Social awareness and public understanding of LGBTQ+ issues remain limited in several regions, leading to challenges in dialogue and inclusion.
- Lack of training for authorities.
- Discrimination against women and minorities.
- Political hesitation.
- Restrictions LGBTQ+ people to enter any holy places.

Solutions Proposed

- Raise awareness and educate the public about equality, tolerance, and human rights.
- Strengthen laws and policies to prevent discrimination and protect all individuals.
- Work with NGOs and community groups to provide access to healthcare, education, and social services.
- Encourage safe spaces where LGBTQ+ individuals can seek support without fear.
- Promote dialogue and engagement between governments, civil society, and religious/cultural leaders.
- Partner with international organizations like the UN and EU to share best practices and guidance.
- Support campaigns and programs that reduce stigma and encourage social inclusion.
- Balance human rights initiatives with cultural and religious values to ensure respectful and practical implementation.